MEETING AT THE STANBOROUGH CENTRE WATFORD

<https://u3asites.org.uk/woodside>

Charity Registration Number.: 1182140

Hello everyone, and a Happy New Year

I hope you all had an enjoyable Christmas holiday, although I am sure there was a fair share of the dramas and crises which always seem to occur at this time. For many people, festive food and drink is an important part of the celebration. I don't know if anyone was caught out as I was - I made an early M&S Christmas order including anything I might possibly want (in case they ran out) intending to sort through and delete items nearer the time, only to discover the deadline for amendments was about a week beforehand, so I now have a freezer full of lobster mac and cheese crostini, pigs in blankets, battered prawns, bread sauce etc! At the December meeting I mentioned an AI website/app and several people have asked me for more information. The one I have tried is ChatGPT but I am sure there are other similar sites. Thinking forward to the New Year, and resolutions, although I am not usually one for motivational quotations, I did like 'When you are kind to others, it not only changes you, it changes the world'. See you in February.

Heather

Today's Speaker:-

'Job Of A Laughtime' Presented by Brad Ashton

To help the environment please remember to bring your own drinking vessel.

Speakers Report

As has become a Christmas tradition with our U3A we don't have a speaker at the December meeting, but instead some of our own interest groups entertain us. There was a stage with wings and lighting set up to make a very professional setting for the performances.

First up was the Drama Group performing a pantomime based on The Wizard of Oz. It was full of fun but all too soon it was time for Dorothy to click her heels three times and say "There's no place like home". This was followed by "Agnes" reading aloud a series of increasingly desperate thank you letters for gifts, many unwanted, based on The Twelve Days of Christmas, also very funny. A telephone conversation based on Joseph trying to book a Hilton hotel for the night with the hotelier - Herod was also hilarious. Showing their diversity there was then an uplifting reading of "Every Day Is Christmas" followed by "Merry Christmas". During and after our coffee break, including crackers and delicious pastries, Glen had prepared a quiz based on Christmas. This was a great chance to socialise while playing as a team. There were some surprising answers for me; I hadn't known that a poinsettia was a type of euphorbia. Finally The Shedettes sang for us. There was plenty of audience participation with rousing songs including old favourites like "Yellow Submarine", "Um Pa Pa", "You're Everywhere and Nowhere...", "Blue Moon", "Jingle Bells" and then the lovely and moving "Silent Night". It was obvious that so much work goes in to the preparation and rehearsal of everything. We are so lucky to have members prepared to elevate their interest groups to this level.

Murder Mystery Evening Activity in 2024

Anticipated
NEW GROUP!

The format of the evening would be that we meet in one of the members' homes for the evening. The scenario of the facts of the mystery will be available and each of those present has a role to play out with the object being to identify the murderer of the fatality, which will be one of those present. You are allowed to ask questions of the other players ; you may exaggerate or be coy but you must not deliberately fib! (not that I think that any members of Woodside U3A would do so) Some questions are provided and you can use your imagination to ask further relevant questions. In addition, we will hope to play the game around having a meal, a Starter, Fish (or similar) and Chip Supper , and a Dessert. All present will be encouraged to either provide something to eat to share , or financially contribute. Cost of the Fish and Chips will be for each to pay for. Participants will be encouraged to try and dress as the part in the story that they have been allotted (this is optional).

We will be having a ' Huddle' at the next General Meeting. John Simpson

Table Tennis Christmas Lunch

The annual Table Tennis activity group Christmas Lunch took place on the 8th December 2023 at the Blue Check Restaurant in Bushey and this was well attended by eighteen members of the group and friends. As we have come to expect from the Blue Check Restaurant the three course Christmas cuisine was very well enjoyed by those who were able to attend the event, especially when we bear in mind that we did not have to pre order our requirements from the quite extensive menu that was available. The restaurant was able to offer meal options for vegetarians and those who need gluten free meals.

There was an atmosphere of excitement and anticipation for the Christmas festivities which were to follow in the forthcoming days. John Simpson

Christmas Lights & Supper

On the 13th December, 18 members made their way from Watford into London, making our way through the street of London viewing the nice display of lights before stopping at County hall for supper. After having had our supper we made our way to the small market which was made up of mostly food not much else.

After visiting the market we made our way back to the coach to continue our journey through London for the rest of our tour. Arriving back at 9.45. I hope everyone enjoyed the night and thank you all for your company. Joan
